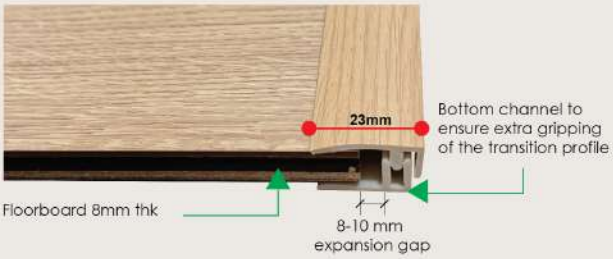
Flooring Profile Adaptation (A)

Refers to the process of adjusting or modifying the flooring profiles to suit specific needs or requirements accommodating different floor heights, or integrating features.

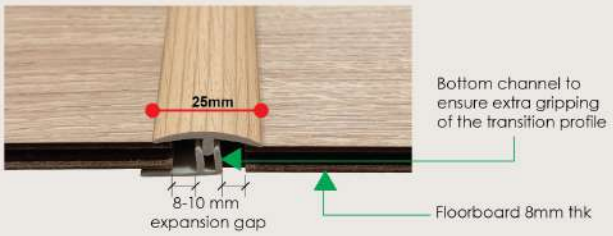
SIZE: 32mm (W) x 8.9mm (H) x 2700mm (L)



Flooring Profile End (N)

An end profile, also known as an end cap or end molding, is used to finish the exposed edge of a floor where it meets a vertical surface like a wall, cabinet and etc. End profiles not only enhance the appearance of the flooring but also help protect the edges from damage and prevent moisture penetration.

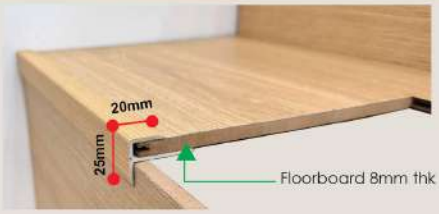
SIZE: 23mm (W) x 8mm (H) x 2700mm (L)



Flooring Profile Transition (T)

Transition in flooring refers to the area where two different types or styles of flooring meet. Transitions are essential for creating a seamless flow between rooms with different flooring materials of same heights. They can be achieved using transition strips, moldings, or specialized profiles designed to bridge the gap between the floors while providing a smooth and aesthetically pleasing transition.

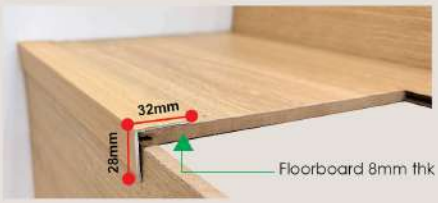
SIZE: 25mm(W) x 7.22mm (H) x 2700mm (L)



Flooring Profile F Nosing (F)

The F profile, also known as an F-channel or stair nosing, is commonly used to finish the edge of a staircase tread or to cover the transition between different floor levels, such as from a room to a toilet or from an exit to a lower floor level like a car porch. This profile typically features a symmetrical F-shaped design that provides a smooth and safe transition while protecting the edges of the flooring material. F profiles are designed to enhance both the appearance and functionality of staircases and floor transitions, ensuring a seamless and aesthetically pleasing transition while preventing damage to the edges of the flooring material.

SIZE: 38mm (W) x 25mm (H) x 2700mm (L)



Big L

Profile L is a type of flooring accessory that is shaped like the letter "L" when viewed from the side. It is used to create a transition, typically at family hall drop area and at staircase. This helps to improve the overall appearance of the flooring.

SIZE: 32mm (W) x 28mm (H) x 2700mm (L)

Flushnosing

Upgrade your staircase with our flush nosing for laminate floorboards. It provides a seamless, stylish look while ensuring safety and durability. Easy to install, our flush nosing is the perfect finishing touch for a smooth transition on your stairs.

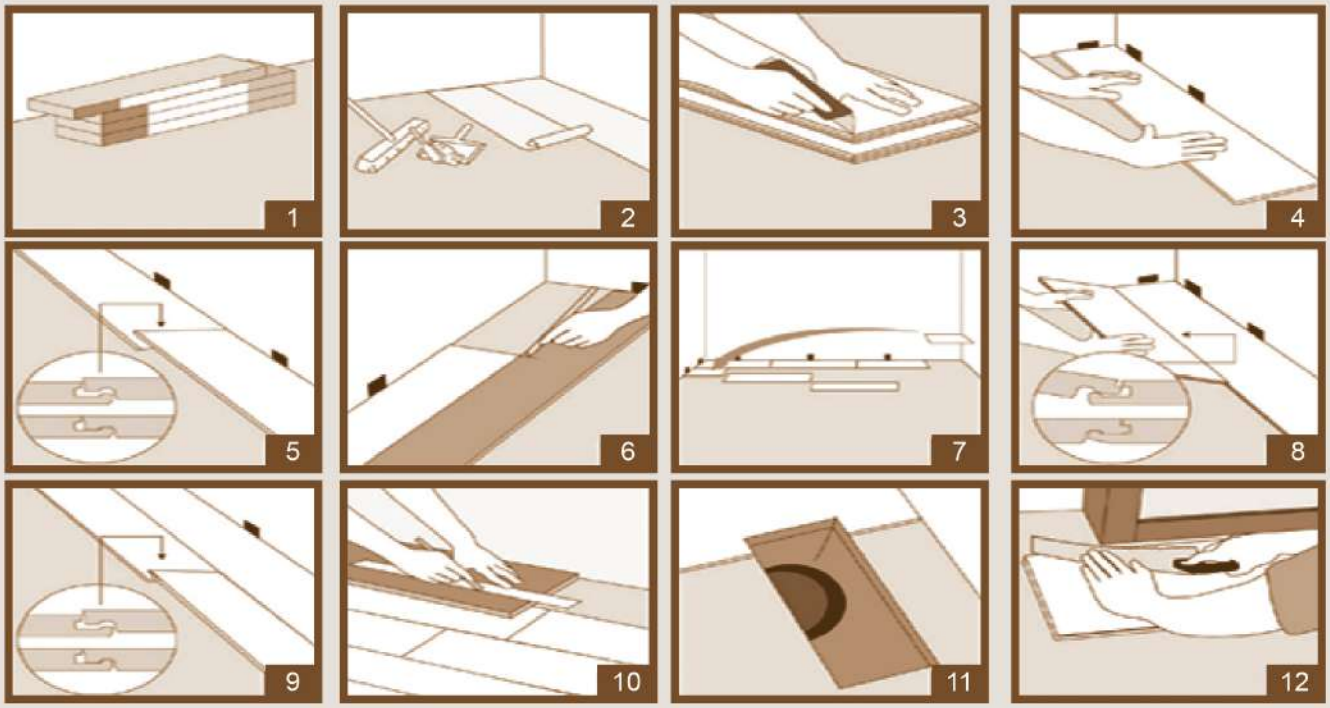
INSTALLATION PROCEDURES



1. When product is stored at the installation site, it should be stored in the room where it will be installed.

2. If your product requires pad, please refer to picture #2. When using a product with attached pad, please skip to picture #3.

3. Remove the tongue from the long side of the plank that faces the wall. This will ensure that the decorative side of the plank will be well under the finished trim. Use a utility knife to score through the tongue several times until it easily snaps off of the plank.

4. Start in the upper left corner by placing the first plank parallel with its trimmed side facing the wall. Use spacers along each wall to maintain the proper expansion gap of ¼".

5. To attach the second plank, lower and lock the end tongue of the second plank into the end groove of the first plank. Align the edges carefully and make sure the end joint is flat to the floor.

6. Continue installing the first row until you reach the last plank. Fit the last plank by rotating the plank 180 degrees with the pattern side up. Place beside row mark and cut off the excess. Attach as described above. If using a handsaw, cut on the decorative surface. If your using a jig or circular saw, cut with the decorative side down to avoid chipping.

7. Continue the second row with the off cut piece from the first row to stagger the pattern. Pieces should be a minimum of 20cm (8") long and joint offest should be (16").

8. To start the second row, tilt and engage the side tongue of the plank into the groove of the first plank at about 30 degrees.

9. Attach the second plank of the second row first on the long side. Tilt and push the plank closely to the edge of the previous plank at a 30 degree angle. Ensure that the plank edges are aligned and lower the plank to the floor, locking the end joint together. Continue installing the remaining planks.

10. To fit in the last row of planks, lay a plank on top of the previous row. With the tongue facing the wall, lay another plank upside down on top of the plank to be measured and use it as a ruler. Don't forget to leave expansion space for your spacers. Cut and install as described above.

11. Door jams and heating vents also need expansion. Cut the plank to the correct length including expansion. Place the cut plank next to its actual position and using a ruler measure the area to be cut out. Mark the plank. Cut out the marked areas including expansion space and install the plank.

12. Undercut the door casing by turning a plank upside down and cut off the bottom of the door casing using a handsaw. The plank will slide easily under the door casing. Remember to leave expansion space.
